

OneSpan Appoints Identity Expert Ashish Jain as CTO

December 18, 2024

Accomplished Technology Executive Joins OneSpan to Drive Next Phase of Innovation

BOSTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Dec. 18, 2024-- OneSpan Inc. (NASDAQ: OSPN), a leader in securing digital banking transactions and eSignatures, today announced the appointment of Ashish Jain as Chief Technology Officer (CTO). Mr. Jain will lead OneSpan's global engineering organization, partner with senior leaders to set and execute the company's innovation vision and strategy and oversee the development and delivery of OneSpan's security and digital agreements products and services.

Widely regarded as one of the top digital identity experts in the industry, Mr. Jain brings over two decades of experience leading product management, engineering, and operations teams at global organizations. Most recently, Mr. Jain served as the Chief Product Officer at Arkose Labs, an enterprise fraud management and account security company, where he led the development of the Company's bot mitigation platform to help address consumer fraud and identity challenges for many Fortune 1000 companies.

Prior to his role at Arkose Labs, Mr. Jain served as Head of Identity at eBay, where he led the global engineering team to build the identity, risk, and trust platform to support onboarding, authentication, KYC, fraud and abuse protection for 180+ million eBay customers and third-party developers. Before joining eBay, Mr. Jain was the Vice President of Workspace ONE at VMware, where he spearheaded the development and patenting of a solution that integrated identity and mobile device management, one of the core tenets of Zero Trust Security. Earlier this year, Okta Ventures recognized Mr. Jain for his long-standing contributions and innovations in the identity security industry, earning a spot on the inaugural "The Identity 25" list, honoring pioneers shaping the future of digital identity. Mr. Jain received a Bachelor of Engineering degree from BITS, Pilani, India, and a Master of Business Administration from the University of Denver's Daniels College of Business.

"The security industry is at a critical crossroads, where innovation is not just a differentiator but a necessity," said Victor Limongelli, CEO of OneSpan. "We are thrilled to welcome Ashish to our leadership team. His deep expertise in digital identity, security, and consumer fraud domains, and his visionary approach to tackling today's most pressing security challenges, is invaluable as we continue to innovate and strengthen our offerings."

"Joining OneSpan is an incredible opportunity to shape the next chapter of identity and security innovation," said Jain. "I've been passionate about solving complex identity challenges, and I'm excited to bring that passion to OneSpan, which shares my commitment to creating innovative solutions that secure and enhance the digital experiences of tomorrow."
