

OneSpan and ForgeRock Partnership Helps Secure Remote Banking with a Single Platform for Identity, Authentication and Risk Analytics

September 17, 2020

Partnership unites best in class identity access, risk-based MFA and fraud management for financial institutions

CHICAGO and SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- OneSpan™ (NASDAQ: OSPN), the global leader in securing remote banking transactions, has signed a strategic partnership with leading digital identity provider, ForgeRock, to integrate OneSpan technologies into the ForgeRock Identity Platform. The combined solution leverages OneSpan's new integration with ForgeRock Intelligent Access to provide a single, open solution to simplify authentication, as well as risk and fraud management. Together, OneSpan and ForgeRock help banks and financial institutions orchestrate identity and access management while protecting customers from fraud.

ForgeRock brings a proven, award-winning identity and access management (IAM) platform with an intuitive visual configurator and extensive connection options. To this, OneSpan adds its industry leading multi-factor authentication and risk analytics, which use machine learning to identify and help protect against fraud in real time. Within the ForgeRock platform, customers can easily select OneSpan capabilities and drag and drop these into an intuitive workflow builder to more easily create new authentication workflows.

"Online identity management and fraud prevention continue to be huge pain points for the financial industry, as fraud only increases due to Covid-19,"¹ said ForgeRock Senior Vice President of Corporate and Business Development, Ben Goodman. "As a result of this increase, partnerships like the one with OneSpan are even more important, and the tight integration with ForgeRock Intelligent Access will allow our joint customers to quickly realize better security and user experiences for their customer journeys."

"This alliance brings together two best of breed solutions to help banks and financial institutions fast track the implementation of intelligent adaptive authentication and fraud management across multiple lines of business," said OneSpan's Vice President of Global Alliances, Xavier Juredieu. "With our combined technologies, ForgeRock IAM customers get a single platform that adds extensive multi-factor authentication, fraud management and mobile security capabilities to efficiently manage and protect the entire digital banking journey."
